WELCOME TO THE LOIRE VALLEY

~Why focus on the Loire Valley? This is the question that I kept asking myself while crafting the wine list. I feel that the relationship between food and wine is integral to the dining experience. The low alcohol, fresh acidity, and base minerality lend the wine to be incredibly food friendly. Also, as one of France's most diverse wine regions, the Loire offers wines from still to sparkling; sweet to bone dry; and white to rose to red. I hope you take the time to explore and enjoy these exciting wines. To aid in your exploration the wines are arranged by style, grape, and finally region. You will also find little detours along the way that highlight some of the fun developments in the Loire Valley...Cheers!

AN EXCITING EXPRESSION OF TERROIR...

Each of the three wines below represents an expression of three very different soil types found in the Muscadet region of the Loire Valley. The Gneiss shows citrus and the salinity of the sea; Orthogneiss expresses flintstone, dried fruits and almonds; and the Granite presents chalk and crushed oyster shells.

HOW PLACE AFFECTS WINE...

Take, for example, the Chenin Blanc grape. In Vouvray, you will find flavors and aromas of apples, honey, and white flowers. In Savennières, the grape tends to show a more intense nuttiness with layers of chamomile, beeswax, and candied fruits.

ABOVE & BELOW- OLD & NEW...

Although the lines of "New World" vs. "Old World" are blurring in contemporary wine making, in this section you will find prime examples of these differing styles.

BELOW- modern, fruit-forward, lush, ripe, opulent, higher alcohol
